Opening hours from the DDC Cusco site pages. COSITUC says you need at least three days to see all 16 sites.

Full or partial: which pays off?

- Only Sacsayhuamán and the sites above Cusco: Circuit I partial (S/ 70).
- Only a Sacred Valley day trip: Circuit III partial (S/ 70).
- City tour + Sacred Valley (the most common plan): two partials cost S/ 140, so the full ticket (S/ 130) is cheaper and adds the museums, Tipón and Pikillaqta.
- Students: the full student ticket (S/ 70) costs the same as one partial.

Where to buy it

- COSITUC counter: Av. El Sol 103 (Galerías Turísticas), Cusco, every day 07:30–18:00.
- At the sites: at every included site except four museums (Histórico Regional, Qosqo de Arte Nativo, Arte Popular, Arte Contemporáneo).
- Not sold online. Websites with hotel delivery are resellers. Beware of fake tickets.
- No need to buy in advance. Carry soles in cash: COSITUC does not publish payment methods.

What is changing: Law 32586 (El Peruano, 8 May 2026) allows single-site and digital tickets. It needs a regulation: the draft (RM 350-2026-MC, 1 Oct 2026) keeps the current paper tickets, prices, circuits and sale points until the digital platform is ready. As of 13 October 2026 nothing has changed for travelers.

Our city and valley tours do not include the ticket, so you can buy the one that fits your plan.
